Clay City woman dead, husband arrested in Easter shooting

By JAMES COOK
Times Editor

A Clay City woman is dead and her husband is now facing charges following an early Sunday morning shooting..

Kentucky State Police arrested Jimmy Hood, 48 at his home on Echo Hollow Road just north of Clay City. He has been charged with shooting his wife, Rosena Hood, 42.

Powell County 911 Dispatch received a call just after 5:30 a.m. Easter morning about a shooting at a residence on Echo Hollow Road. Police and ambulance personnel were sent to the area. But due to high water, emergency responders had to get to the Pompeii area road by going the back way through Paint Creek and Stanton. Upon their arrival they found Rosena Hood had been shot by what appeared to be a .380 semi-automatic pistol, according to calls on the emergency radios.

Ambulance personnel requested extra help from the Clay City Fire Department to assist with CPR. Hood was taken to the Saint Joseph Mount Sterling hospital. She was pronounced dead at the hospital.

State police began an investigation into the incident. Court sources and records indicate that officers had been to the Hood residence several times over verbal confrontations between the husband and wife. But nothing seem to indicate, according to the sources, that a shooting was a possibility.

State police say that there appears to have been a party at the home earlier in the evening and that they will look to see if alcohol was a factor. They also believe that the shooting may have been part of a domestic issue. Police would not comment any further. However, the case is still open and under investigation. The lead detective on the case is KSP Detective Virgil Rucker.

James "Jimmy" Hood was charged with second degree manslaughter and lodged in the Powell County Detention Center. He was reportedly due in court earlier this week.

Honoring one of the first patriots

Times Photos by James Cook

Two of the things a veteran of the U.S Armed Forces is guaranteed by their country for their service is to receive a headstone for their final resting place and a flag to honor them. It took a while but American Revolutionary War Sergeant Beverly Daniel received his marker last Saturday. A great-great- great grandson, John Lyons, from Arizona started the pursuit to find where his relative was laid to rest. Daniel came to Kentucky after serving in the war to make America a free nation. With some help from the various Sons of the American Revolution chapters and the Red River Daughters of the American Revolution, Daniel's grave was found in the Conlee/Maxwell Cemetery on Cat Creek Road. The marker was placed with full military offers, placing of wreaths and representatives of various SAR's in full Revolutionary War attire.

Family camping trip turns fatal

By JAMES COOK
Times Editor

What started out as a spring break get back to nature getaway turned tragic last Friday morning after strong storms ripped through Powell County. A Lexington woman was killed and her husband was seriously injured after a huge tree limb fell on their tent near Natural Bridge State Park.

Emergency units were called to Middle Fork Campground after the tree limb struck the tent with five people inside. Three children were also in the tent. None of them were injured. Upon arrival rescue personnel found Catherine Carlson, 45, and her husband, Brian Carlson, in a tent with a large tree limb laying in the middle of the tent. Three kids were also inside, the oldest child being 14 years old. Catherine Carlson was pronounced dead at the scene, Brian Carlson had suffered what appeared to be a broken hip and pelvic injuries.

According to Powell County Coroner Hondo Hearne, strong winds associated with a strong storm and hail, toppled over the tree limb. Hearne guessed the limb was about 10 to 15 feet long and rather large. A strong storm did rake the area just after 3 a.m. with the report of the incident coming in around 3:20 a.m.

Hearne believes that Carlson died immediately. "She appeared to have severe trauma to the thorax, chest area and abdomen," Hearne said. "The husband looked to have a broken hip."

Brian Carlson was taken to Clark Regional Medical Center and then rushed to the UK Medical Center to be treated for a fractured pelvis.

The storms continued in Powell County. Hours of heavy rain before the tragedy, coupled with the deluge the deadly storm brought rapid moving flood waters into the campground. Park rangers quickly moved to evacuate low-lying areas and other campers.

Meanwhile emergency workers had to act quickly to gather evidence, remove Carlson, get the husband to a hospital and everyone out

Gwen's Guardians: Friends helping a friend in need

By SARAH BLOOM
Special to the Times

In April of 2014 Gwen Reffitt received the news no one ever wants to get... cancer...serious, aggressive and rare. No one knows how they will react when they are basically told their life will never again be the same, but one would be hard pressed to find a person more positive and brave as Gwen. A wife and mother of four beautiful children her faith is an inspiration and her love for her family unmatched.

A year ago this month, Gwen was preparing to take her family on a much needed beach vacation. At a visit to the tanning bed she discovered a knot on the left side of her stomach. She thought it may be a blocked intestine so she made an appointment with her regular physician and was quickly referred to UK for a scan. Due to a miscommunication she was told when she reached the hospital that there was no referral for her in the system. Not to be deterred she decided to go through the emergency room. In the ER they did an internal ultrasound instead of a regular scan. This was, in Gwen's eyes, God intervening on her behalf because through that scan they were able to detect a large cyst, equivalent in size to a 20 week pregnancy, called a cyst complex.

Doctors went ahead with a complete hysterectomy. Gwen mentioned a lump in her breast that she had been concerned about after a previous doctor had told her it was only a fibroid cyst. During this time the doctors also performed a breast biopsy. The results were life altering.

For a year now she has been receiving treatment for Triple Negative Breast Cancer at Markey Cancer Center and The University of Kentucky. Gwen's unique type of breast cancer had spread to her liver and her ovaries. After a complete hysterectomy she began a series of chemotherapy treatments. The chemo worked well at shrinking the cancer and by the end of November she was able to go off of the treatments. Tests at that time showed the cancer was "barely visible".

Throughout the Christmas holiday she began to have major discomfort in her right shoulder. Doctors originally thought she had torn a ligament working on her Christmas tree but the pain became so severe more tests were performed. At the beginning of March 2015 she returned to her cancer doctors for tests to see how things were going. The results she received were not good. Her cancer had grown, tripled in size. She was told that she would have to fight for the rest of her life against this beast. Chemotherapy was effective on her type of cancer, but she would have to take it from now on. Adding insult to injury, the pain she had been experiencing in her shoulder was a result of the cancer invading and destroying the bones of her shoulder. She is now facing a complete shoulder replacement to rid her body of the diseased bone.

True to her feisty personality, Gwen was and is determined to fight and as her friend I am determined to help her in any way that I can. About a month ago I posted on Facebook that we were going to start fund-raising so that Gwen would be able to travel to other states and different facilities in search of the best treatment for her unique type of cancer. She is a fighter and she deserves a fighting chance.

The immediate response from this amazing community was overwhelming. Even as I write this my heart is overflowing with appreciation to each and every person who has stepped up and offered to help and plan. This past Saturday we hosted our very first fund raising event in the form of a Bake Sale. Ladies from all over the county donated delicious pies, cakes, candies, cookies, and cupcakes. The Middle School Soccer Team had also planned a bake sale on Thursday, April 2, but

Library's summer reading program for children set to begin soon, needs a little help

The 2014 Summer Reading Program at the Powell County Public Library was a great success and the Powell County Public Library would like to ask for your help in making the 2015 Summer Reading Program even better. The library offers a summer reading program to the children of our community to encourage them to read for pleasure during the summer and to help them retain their reading skills so they read at their grade-level when they return to schools.

This year's theme is "Every Hero Has a Story". To add to the fun and to create a sense of challenge that will keep kids reading, the library's children's program director, Rose Benningfield and the library would like to offer incentives and contest prizes at various times during the program. Because of their limited budget, the library greatly appreciates donations from Powell County businesses and citizens to help purchase prizes and supplies for the program.

"We appreciate any donation you can make. Donations include new toys or books to give away as prizes, coupons for free food or services, or cash to buy prizes and supplies," Benningfield said.

This year the library says they need at least two teen volunteers to help with Summer Reading. If you know a 9th through 12th grade high school student who would like to volunteer with the program please stop by the library and pick up information and a short application to fill out. This would be a great way to receive volunteer experience for your college applications and scholarship applications!

"If you can help us in any way, please contact me at the library 606-663-4511," Benningfield said. "We look forward to making the 2015 Summer Reading Program one of the best yet!"

of the way. The flood waters reportedly took over the scene a mere 15 minutes after everyone cleared that part the campground.

The high waters closed Middle Fork Campground and nearby Hoedown Island. In fact, many parts of the state park and Powell County saw some flooding issues for the rest of the weekend.

According to press reports out of Lexington news agencies, Catherine Carlson was a teacher at the Beaumont Learning Center on Lane Allen Road. The Learning Center is a Christian preschool associated with the Beaumont Presbyterian Church.

Carlson also was reported to have been a past board president of the Fayette Co-operating PreSchool and Kindergarten, a nonprofit, independent school.

At last report Brian Carlson was considered to be in serious to critical condition. No arrangements have been announced for Catherine Carlson as of press time.

Herpetology Weekend at NBSP April 17-18

Natural Bridge State Resort Park is hosting Herpetology Weekend, April 17-18. This weekend is a great way to learn about some of nature's most misunderstood critters: snakes, lizards, turtles, salamanders and frogs!

On Saturday, April 18, experienced herpetologists will lead morning and afternoon field trips into the Red River Gorge and surrounding areas to observe reptiles and amphibians in their native habitat. This is a great opportunity for the entire family to come enjoy nature and see some fairly secretive wildlife up close and personal!

All field trips depart from the Hemlock Lodge lobby. Saturday morning trips will stagger starts from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., and the Saturday afternoon field trips will stagger starts from 1:30 p.m. to 2:15 p.m.

Evening presentations by leading experts in the field will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Woodland Center. A live reptile show will be presented by the staff of the Kentucky Reptile Zoo on Saturday night.

On-site registration fee is $10 per adult, $3 for ages 13-17 and free for ages 12 and under. Registration opens 30 minutes prior to field trip departure or presentation.

For more information about Herpetology Weekend at Natural Bridge State Resort Park, contact the Natural Bridge Naturalist Office at 606-663-2214 or email andrew.stevens@ky.gov

Natural Bridge State Resort Park is home to one of the larger natural arches in the state and is surrounded by Daniel Boone National Forest. Natural Bridge offers lodging, cottages, and campground accommodations. Hiking trails and other recreational opportunities are available. Natural Bridge State Resort Park is 52 miles southeast of Lexington and 2 miles off the Mountain Parkway at Slade, Exit 33.

Powell Retired teachers discuss pay system

The Powell County Retired Teachers met on Friday, March 13, in the Powell County Extension Office. Following a pot luck lunch, the meeting was called to order by president, Karen Gilbert. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Sammy and Jackson Gilbert. Ceibert Gilbert gave the invocation.

All committee reports were given. Ceibert Gilbert spoke on the legislative session concerning the current pay system. Delegates were named of who will be attending the Kentucky Retired Teachers Convention in April. A nominating committee was appointed to elect officers for the coming year.

Members present were: Dee Robbins, Mary Lou Potts, Janice Pelfrey, Ovie Holton, Margarita Arnett, Linda and Daryl Abner, Karen and Ceibert Gilbert, and Jean Derickson. Guests were Josie Hollon, Samy and Jackson Gilbert.

The next meeting will be held on April 10 at Natural Bridge. The speaker will Dr. Julie Kennon and she will be speaking on health issues.

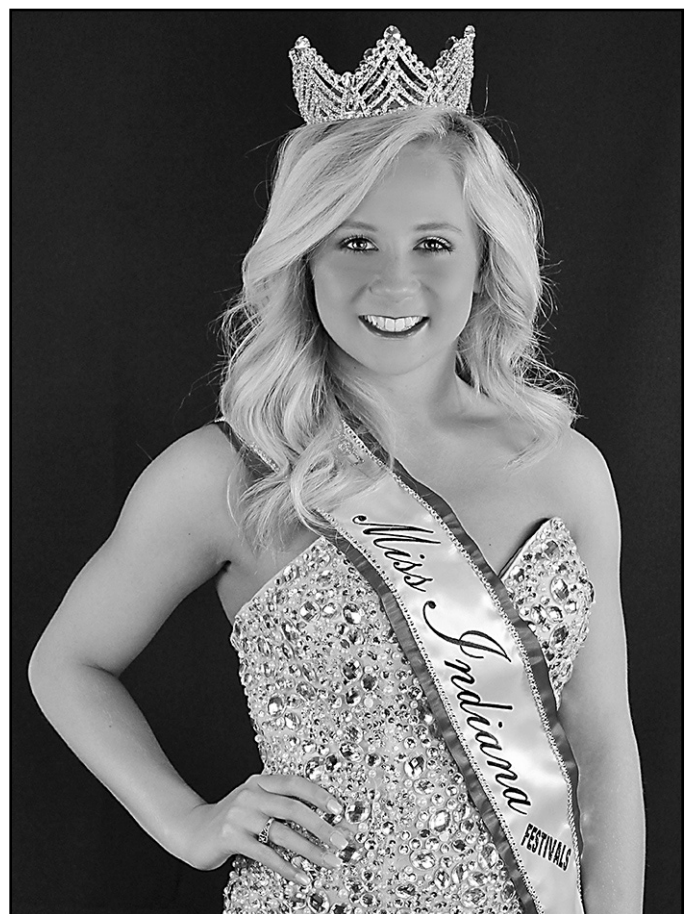

Please plan to attend.

Creech wins Miss Indiana Festivals 2015

Jennifer Morgan Creech, a senior at Powell County High School, was recently crowned Miss Indiana Festivals 2015. She has had several opportunities for personal appearances so far. She was invited to the Bracketology Dinner at Freedom Hall benefiting Spaulding University in March where she met Joe B. Hall and Former UK great, Jack "Goose" Givens.

Jennifer will also be attending the Oaks Breakfast on May 1 with Miss America 2015 on behalf of Boys Haven. On May 2 she'll get to walk the red carpet and attend the derby. There will be many more opportunities for personal appearances and community work for her the rest of the year.

She will compete in Nashville in July with the other state title holders from around the country in Amerifest Nationals.

Jennifer will also be trying out for the University of Kentucky cheerleading squad by invitation only on May 8-10. The final day of tryouts are open to the public at Memorial Coliseum please come out and support her. She is also being recruited by the University of Hawaii and Morehead State University for cheerleading.

We are wishing Jennifer the best of luck in all her future endeavors.

Merry Spring?

We have 259 days. That’s right 259 days until Christmas. But according to some callers to the Times, Stanton is ready. In fact the special flags and banners for the light poles are up and ready. But wait, they didn’t come down yet from last Christmas? Ok . . . ?

I know it’s no big deal, it’s not the end of the world, but I know it bothers a few.

There have been some serious problems dealt with this year by the city (we all like to have water) and this is a little tongue in cheek funnin’, but we just had Easter and the Christmas banners were still up as of this past Tuesday morning (they may be down by time you read this.) So if we’re going to leave them up can we change our name to Christmas Town or Holiday-ville, something catchy.

I’m just saying . . . and poking a little harmless fun.

LETTERS To The Editor

‘Thanks’ for helping us help Gwen

There do not seem to be adequate words to describe how thankful and blessed I am by the support this community gave Saturday to ensure that our Bake Sale, to raise money for Gwen Reffitt’s cancer treatment, was a huge success. My deepest appreciation goes to those who helped out, those who stopped by and bought goodies, those who donated baked goods, those who stopped by and stuck money through the fence wanting nothing in return, The Clay City Baptist Church for allowing us to use their grounds, and those who have been praying for Gwen and for the beautiful weather we had that day.

Whether it was your time, your money, or your love and prayers they were all felt and all appreciated. This community is amazing and we rally behind one of our own when they need us.

Thank you again and may God bless,

Attorney General warns about scammers and how beast them

By JACK CONWAY
KY Attorney General

After a long, unseasonably treacherous winter, spring has finally arrived in the Bluegrass State. As the temperatures rise and the water levels recede, many Kentuckians look forward to enjoying the new season with outdoor activity, spring cleaning and home improvement projects. Unfortunately, this time of year also sees a sharp rise in shady contractors that prey on the hopes of home improvement. While many Kentuckians are receiving tax returns and looking for reputable contractors, fly by night scam artists are coming out of the woodwork.

In recent years, home repair and construction complaints have ranked as high as third on the Top 10 Consumer Complaints List released annually by the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG). My Office of Consumer Protection and I are committed to protecting Kentuckians from home-improvement scammers, as well as unscrupulous fly-by-night contractors. Also known as “storm chasers,” these fraudulent contractors often appear in storm-damaged communities and swindle victims by offering cheap and quick repair work. Kentucky may be particularly attractive to these transient scam artists given the record amount of snow and ice that was heaped upon the Bluegrass these past few months. With damage to many homes there is a high need for repair or restoration and with that needs comes risks.

Many of these scammers will hit an area, take the money, and run. They typically travel from out of town and visit neighborhoods, offering unsolicited bids to susceptible residents and making high-pressure sales pitches that sound too good to be true. That’s why I always encourage consumers in need of cleanup or repair services to never pay the full amount before the work is completed, and, if possible, use local, reputable contractors.

My office is currently working to recover thousands of dollars in restitution for scam victims in several Kentucky counties who were solicited by James Twaddle, a fraudulent roofing contractor. Twaddle, the former president of Restore-IT USA, sent employees door to door, signing more than two dozen residents up for roof repair services following storm events. However, Twaddle pocketed the payments and never completed the work for any of them. Twaddle has since pleaded guilty to theft by deception charges in two of these cases, and the remaining cases are still pending.

Kentuckians can easily avoid similar frustrating and stressful experiences by keeping these additional tips in mind:

- Deal only with reputable, established firms. Ask friends and neighbors for recommendations.
- Get written estimates from at least three different contractors. Make sure all costs are covered in the estimate: including the down payment, finance charges, building permit fees, installation costs and all materials.
- If an advance is needed to purchase materials, offer to purchase the materials yourself.
- Request names of past customers and contact them to find out if they were satisfied.

- Never select a contractor who has not come to your home to assess the job.
- Ask questions about what methods or material will be used, when work will begin, how long before the job is complete, and what method of payment is required.
- Ask if the contractor is licensed, bonded (if required by the city or county), and insured.
- Be suspicious of unfamiliar, out-of-state vehicles and those who offer repair work at unreasonably low prices. Contact local law enforcement about your suspicions.
- Check unknown companies out with the Better Business Bureau or call my Office of Consumer Protection to see if information is available about the company.

Additionally, when selecting a contractor, insist on getting a written, detailed contract. Don’t let a persuasive seller push you into signing a contract on the spot until you have received several estimates and are completely clear about the terms of the contract. You may be asked to sign documents other than the contract. I encourage you to read these papers thoroughly so you know exactly what you are signing.

I want to ensure that all Kentuckians are vigilant of home-improvement and storm-repair scams this spring. As always, I urge consumers to report any incidents of possible fraud or shoddy construction work and repair using my Office of Consumer Protection Hotline at 1-888-432-9257. You may also file a consumer protection complaint online by visiting www.ag.ky.gov/consumer.

Guest Column: Wherever you may roam, there is truly no place like home

By JOSH GRASTON
Guest Columnist

They say you can never go home again, and in some ways I have found that to be true. Life takes you down some interesting roads, and for nearly 16 years I’ve lived in other states across the United States. Being an adult now with a family of my own, a 1-year old baby, a 12-year old step-daughter and a beautiful wife, I was somewhat hesitant about returning to Powell County. However, as I drove down the Mountain Parkway last week it was like taking a stroll down to Memory Lane.

Memories flooded back in flashes; riding our bicycles down Main Street to the pharmacy to buy baseball cards (does anyone still actually collect those?), Saturday morning biscuits and gravy from Hardees, knocking golf balls at the driving range, eating Sue’s Hot Dogs.. the list could go on and on.

Before I knew it, I saw the sign for the Clay City exits and I was immediately struck by the fact that there were two exits. My heart fell a little when I saw Budget Video no longer existed, but I think we can blame that on Redbox and the internet. IGA was still there, albeit a little smaller than I remember. EZ-stop was packed, and just like in the past nobody seemed to know how to park. Most things that I remembered seemed to still be there, but most seemed to have been a little run down or had been repurposed. The Pool Hall I remembered learning to shoot at was now a pawn shop, the Clay City Times had moved from the place down by the river, but the Red River Museum seemed to be the bedrock upon which I could anchor my nostalgia.

While many things seemed to have changed, the one thing that seems to be the same are the people here. I am not naive to the fact that Powell County has its own share of problems, as does any place. That being said, by and large the people here are as I remember them: a kind, honest and hard-working simple kind of folk. It is still a place where people wave at you as they drive by or are willing to help someone broken down on the side of the road.

A gentleman at McKinney’s pointed out that my tire was low on air, a lady at the Dollar General stopped and chatted with my baby and a guy at EZ-Stop shared stories of his childhood while we waited for some food from the kitchen. Coming from a big city I had forgotten what it was like to really share a common ground with people, to really connect.

Looking back now on the memories I made as a child, they had little to do with the “things” Powell County had to offer, and more with its people. I remember one time a friend and I decided to try and raise $100 entirely from returnable Ale-8 bottles, I’m sure the guy at store remembers that day. I can clearly recall the bemused looks of people as we knocked on the doors asking if they needed any bottles returned. We’d offer to bring back 10 cents for each bottle, making our task oh so much more daunting. The sun was setting by the time we had finished, but we had ran our race and achieved our conquest. Our hours really were sun-up to streetlights.

I am looking forward to raising my family here and am excited about the memories my children will make. I hope when they grow up they have memories as fond as I have about weekends fishing at the Gorge, swimming and playing at Natural Bridge, the annual Corn Festival and eating cheap but delicious food at Bruen’s. But most of all I’m excited about raising them in a place where Southern Hospitality still exists.

So while maybe you can’t “come home again” and have everything be exactly as you remember, Powell County still seems like a mighty fine place to call home.

Clay City native serves on USS Ronald Reagan

By LT.jg
CHRISTOPHER HANSON
Special to the Times

A 2012 Powell County High School graduate and Clay City, Kentucky, native is serving on one of the world's largest warships, the U.S. Navy aircraft carrier USS Ronald Reagan.

Petty Officer 3rd Class Geneva Pittman is an aviation ordnanceman aboard the San Diego-based ship, a Nimitz-class nuclear-powered aircraft carrier and one of only ten operational aircraft carriers in the Navy today.

"I am a weapons technician. I am responsible for building bombs and inspecting missiles, rockets and gun systems on our F-18 fighter aircraft," said Pittman Named in honor of former President Ronald Reagan, the carrier is longer than 3 football fields, at nearly 1,100 feet long. The ship is 252 feet wide and weighs more than 100,000 tons. Two nuclear reactors can push the ship through the water at nearly 35 mph.

As a sailor with numerous responsibilities, Pittman said she is proud to serve her country aboard an aircraft carrier.

"The USS Reagan is a great ship and we are very popular as America's flagship. We get a lot of attention in the public," said Pittman.

Pittman also said she is very proud of the work she is doing as part of USS Ronald Reagan's nearly 3,000-member crew, helping protect America on the world's oceans.

Sailors' jobs are highly varied aboard USS Ronald Reagan. Nearly 3,000 men and women make up the ship's company, which keeps all parts of the aircraft carrier running smoothly — this includes everything from washing dishes and preparing meals to handling weaponry and maintaining the nuclear reactors. Another 2,000 or so form the air wing, the people who actually fly and maintain the aircraft.

"I never cease to be impressed with the type and quality of work that goes on aboard the carrier each day," said Capt. Christopher E. Bolt, the carrier's commanding officer. "Our team is filled with highly qualified young adults — in many cases, 19 and 20 years old — and they're out here launching and recovering aircraft, running a complex propulsion system safely, serving as air traffic controllers, operating sophisticated electronics, and keeping this floating city alive and functioning. Their work ethic, enthusiasm, and esprit de corps are second to none. If you pick up a newspaper in any city and examine what other 19- and 20-year-olds are doing, there is no comparison to the level of responsibility our Sailors hold. That caliber of Sailor is what has earned us the title of America's Flagship."

USS Ronald Reagan is also a self-sustaining, mobile airport and, like each of the Navy's aircraft carriers, is designed for a 50-year service life. While underway, the ship carries more than 70 jets, helicopters and other aircraft, all of which take off from and land on the carrier's 4.5-acre flight deck. Four powerful catapults launch aircraft off the bow of the ship. After lowering a tail hook that protrudes from the rear of the aircraft, jets and aircraft land by snagging a steel cable called an arresting wire.

After an extended maintenance period spent pier side in San Diego, USS Ronald Reagan is preparing for its move to Japan, as part of the first ever three-hull aircraft carrier crew and hull swap. It will replace USS George Washington in Japan and become part of the U.S. 7th Fleet forward-deployed naval forces (FDNF) in Yokosuka, Japan. As part of this rebalance strategy to increase the Navy's presence in the Pacific Fleet, USS Theodore Roosevelt will move from Norfolk, Va., to San Diego.

In 2008, George Washington was the first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier sent to Japan as part of the FDNF. Maintaining a FDNF capability supports the United States' commitment to the defense of Japan and the security and stability of the vital Indo-Asia-Pacific.

As a member of one of the U.S. Navy's most relied upon assets, Pittman and other USS Ronald Reagan sailors know they are part of an agile and skilled team standing ready to defend America.

The Navy is uniquely positioned to be there, on the world's oceans, patrolling what is essentially the world's interstate ocean highway system. The U.S. Navy ensures the free flow of global trade which, in turn, preserves America's economic prosperity. When it comes to protecting and defending America, being there matters. And America's Navy is already there.

"I love working with a diverse group of people. Everyone has a different background and it is really cool learning about where they are from," said Pittman.

Best Quality, Price & Service Always

In Memory of Shirley Pelfrey

I'm writing today in honor of an memory of my sweet, special husband, my best friend, Shirley Pelfrey who went to be with the Lord on April 7, 2014. I know there are many of you who feel your mate is the BEST EVER. Well, mine was the VERY BEST husband, friend, leader of our household, father, provider, brother, son and son of our father in Heaven. I've been so blessed to have shared my life with him 44 years. It's a good feeling to know he has a new body and can now see, and what beauty to behold where he is! He can hear, breathe and many of the personal hindrances are one, erased, PRAISE GOD!!! I will always love you Shirley, forever. Until we meet again, Jane.

Thank You

From the family of Delphia Barker, we want to take the time to thank everyone for their time, respect and compassion, during the loss of our precious mother. We thank you for the flowers, for everyone that attended her visitation and funeral, and for those that gave and brought food. We want to thank Davis & Davis Funeral Home for handling and accommodating our family so well in our time of sorrow and grief, I especially thank God for the prayers of His people.

Thank You so much!
Sincerely,
The Family of Delphia Barker

Our Heartfelt Thanks

The family of Billy A. Powell would like to express our gratitude for all the gifts, flowers, food, cards and prayers. We are also thankful for all the kindness showed to us during the loss of our loving husband, father, brother and friend.

Thanks to everyone who helped in any way or just thought of us.

We loved Billy dearly and he will be greatly missed. Thanks to all.

Bowen Buccaneer Broadcasting Team is the top act in their group at STLP Championship

By JENNIFER FRANCIS
Special to the Times

Bowen Elementary's "Buccaneer Broadcasting" team was recognized for being top in their group, placing them among the top technology showcases in the state at the Student Technology Leadership Program (STLP) State Championship. The event was held on Thursday, March 26 in Lexington, Kentucky's Rupp Arena/Lexington Center. Just over 5,700 P-12 students and 1,500 adults registered to attend and supported the 2015 STLP State Championship. Over 360 schools from 94 districts came to show what they know.

The "Buccaneer Broadcasting" team members are Grace Fannin, Daniel Boswell, Alexis Simon and Belle Colwell. These students write, film, edit, and publish a daily newscast over the school's closed circuit television system. Their leadership, communication, collaboration and technology skills impressed the judges. They were awarded a trophy on stage at Rupp Arena and only a small number of the hundreds of showcase projects achieved this honor.

BES STLP Coach, Mrs. Jennifer Francis had this to say about her team, "Their hard work and dedication to their project makes a tremendous impact on our entire school. Both students and staff watch the Bowen News every day. They exemplify the L in STLP"

On this day at Rupp, Bowen Elementary had a total of three showcase teams who had qualified from the Morehead Regional and Powell County Middle School had two. Advancing to state championship from regionals is an accomplishment in itself. Coach Jennifer Francis (BES) and Coach Crystal Neal (PCMS) are extremely proud of their students.

The State Championship allows students from across the state to come together and demonstrate for other students, school and community persons what they know and can do with technology

Marcus Jones PCHS Student of the Week

Marcus Jones is this week's PTO Student of the Week at Powell County High School. He is the son of Jackie Jones of Stanton and Amy Townsend of Stanton.

Marcus is a sophomore, and is a member of the FFA. He has been on several trips with the organization, including the Farm Tractor Machine Show in Louisville, and Knox Farm in Clay City. His favorite classes are MacKenzie Waymeyer's agriculture and construction classes because "she's a fun teacher".

Marcus was nominated for PTO Student of the Week by Ms. Waymeyer.

In the future, Marcus plans to continue farming on his grandfather's farm.

Student of the Week is a program sponsored by the PTO and recognizes students who are role models in the areas of study, effort, cooperation, and attitude.

CCE and SES students help with MWMH Teddy Bear Fair

Recently, Clay City Elementary and Stanton first grade students attended Teddy Bear Fair at Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital. This event gives MWMH the opportunity to educate children about injury prevention and allows them to become more familiar with the facility, making a visit to the hospital less frightening. Students received a bear that visited various locations around the hospital including the emergency room, patient room on the medical unit, X-ray and more. Students also learned about medication safety, heart health and got to see a medical helicopter up-close.

Words of Wisdom: Quotes by D.L. Moody

There's no better book with which to defend the Bible than the Bible itself.

This book (the Bible) will keep you from sin or sin will keep you from this book.

Character is what you are in the dark.

If I take care of my character, my reputation will take care of me.

A man can no more take in a supply of grace for the future than he can eat enough for the next six months, or take sufficient air into his lungs at one time to sustain life for a week. We must draw upon God's boundless store of grace from day to day as we need it.

Faith takes God without any ifs.

The law tells me how crooked I am. Grace comes along and straightens me out.

Work as if everything depended on you and pray as if everything depended on God.

I firmly believe a great many prayers are not answered because we are not willing to forgive someone.

A man who prays much in private will make short prayers in public.

A man ought to live so that everybody knows he is a Christian... and most of all, his family ought to know.

NOTICE

I, Dustin Riddle, have been appointed by the Powell Circuit Court as Warning Order Attorney to notify any potential beneficiaries of Joyce Ann Rice, who lived on Pecks Creek Road in Stanton, Kentucky, of civil litigation that has been filed with the Powell Circuit Court styled Whitaker Bank, Inc. v. Unknown Beneficiaries of Joyce Ann Rice, et al., C.A. No: 14-CI-00217. This lawsuit appears to be a foreclosure action regarding real estate located on Pecks Creek Road in Stanton, Kentucky more particularly described in Deed Book 152, Page 442 recorded in the Powell County Clerk's Office. Any potential beneficiary of Joyce Ann Rice should retain counsel as soon as possible for the purpose of asserting any claim or interest they may have in this subject property and to answer said complaint.

If you have any questions, I can be reached at Flynt Law Office, P.O. Box 359, Stanton, Kentucky; 606-663-6690.

NOTICE OF MASTER COMMISSIONER SALE

Pursuant to and compliance with the Judgment and Order of Sale of the Powell Circuit Court, The Master Commissioner will offer for Sale at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder on APRIL 13, 2015, beginning at the hour of 5:00 p.m. local time, at the Powell County Courthouse, Main Lobby, Courthouse Door, Stanton, Kentucky property described in the action set out below. Said property shall be sold to raise the amounts hereinafter set forth, together with interest and the costs of the action, and upon the following terms and conditions:

(A) At the time of sale the successful bidder shall either pay cash or make a deposit of ten (10%) percent of the purchase price with the balance on credit for thirty (30) days UNLESS OTHERWISE SHOWN AT THE END OF A PARTICULAR SALE. Or the purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or a greater portion thereof than ten percent (10%) at the date of purchase or of prepaying the balance of the purchase price with accrued interest. In the event the successful bidder desires or elects to credit the balance, he or she will be required to post bond and furnish an acceptable surety thereon. Said bond shall be for the unpaid purchase price and bear interest at the rate of twelve (12%) per annum from the date of sale until paid. The bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment in order to secure the payment of the balance of the purchase price and said bond shall constitute a prior and superior lien on the property until paid. No bond or earnest month shall be required in the event that the Plaintiffs hereto shall be the purchasers and the bid is less than their adjudged lien.

(B) The purchasers shall be required to assume and pay all taxes or assessments upon the property for the 2014 taxes, the current year and all subsequent years. All taxes or assessments upon the property for prior years shall be paid from the sale proceeds. The property shall further be sold subject to any delinquent State, County and/or city real estate taxes sold pursuant to the provisions of KRS Chapter 134 to any private purchaser during the pendency of this action.

(C) The property shall otherwise be sold free and clear of any right, title and interest of all parties to the action and of their liens and encumbrances thereon, and all existing liens recorded after the recording of the Plaintiff's Lis Pendens Notice, excepting and subject to however, easements, restrictions, stipulations and covenants of record in the Powell County Court Clerk's office, any facts which an inspection and accurate survey of the property may disclose and any assessments for public improvements levied against the property.

(D) Purchasers shall not be entitled to the possession of the real estate until the Court's confirmation of the sale and the payment in full of the purchaser price and delivery of the deed unless the Plaintiffs are the purchasers.

(E) Risk of loss of the improvements of the real property shall pass to the purchaser or purchasers at the time of sale. The successful bidders may, (unless otherwise stated at the end of a sale) from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid, carry fire and extended coverage insurance on the improvements on such property to the extent of the court appraised value of said improvements or the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, with a loss clause payable to the Master Commissioner of the Powell Circuit Court.

(F) Upon default of the payment of the deposit or posting of bond by the purchaser, the Master Commissioner shall immediately re-sell the property upon the same terms and conditions set out herein.

(G) If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the ten percent (10%) deposit made by the purchaser shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser.

FURTHER INFORMATION REGARDING THE PROPERTY AND/OR SALES THEREOF CAN BE FOUND IN THE POWELL COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT CLERK'S OFFICE BY THE FILE NAME AND NUMBER LISTED FOR EACH SALE; THE POWELL COUNTY PROPERTY VALUATION ADMINISTRATOR'S OFFICE AND THE POWELL COUNTY COURT CLERK'S OFFICE. PROSPECTIVE BIDDERS ARE ADVISED AND ENCOURAGED TO REVIEW ANY AND ALL DOCUMENTS AVAILABLE AT THESE LOCATIONS FOR MORE DETAILS OF THE PROPERTY OR SALES, AS THE MASTER COMMISSIONER HAS NO ADDITIONAL INFORMATION. THE PROPERTY SALES, IF MORE THAN ONE IS SCHEDULED FOR A PARTICULAR DAY, WILL OCCUR SEQUENTIALLY AT THE APPOINTED HOUR.

26th Annual Boonesboro Lioness Club Auction to help Hospice East is April 10

Debbie Jones, Hospice East Executive Director, is excited to announce the 26th Annual Boonesboro Lioness Club Auction. For the past 25 years, the Boonesboro Lioness Club has hosted a yearly auction to benefit Hospice East – raising a grand total of over $115,000 for the nonprofit organization! All proceeds are used to better serve hospice patients and their families in Powell and Clark Counties.

This year, the auction will kick off with a Bake Sale starting at 4 p.m. on Friday April 10 at the First Church of God gymnasium (2500 Colby Rd. Winchester). The auction will begin at 6 p.m.

Items for the auction have been donated by over 100 local businesses, Volunteers and employees. Some of the items to be auctioned include a BBQ grill with all the accessories, a Keurig coffee maker, quilts, cookware, gift certificates to restaurants, doctor offices, salons and automotive repair shops, and tickets to sporting events and amusement parks. Several ‘themed’ baskets have also been put together to be silently bid on, plus much more!

We hope you will join us! For more details call 859-744-9866.

Attention PCHS Seniors and Senior Parents, photos for Times Keepsake Issue due TODAY

Each year The Clay City Times publishes a supplement or “Graduation Tab”, which includes a photo and name of the current graduating class members.

Advertisements from local businesses and well wishers help to make this Senior Keepsake possible.

Please make sure to turn photos in to Brandon Brewer by April 9 in order for your, or your child’s, picture to be published.

That is TODAY!

We ask that you take into consideration the fact that photos print darker than they appear in news print.

One cold winter!

This past Monday night we discussed spring pruning at our garden class at PCHS. Most of the trees and shrubs in our landscape are crying out “ Help me!!” With temperatures dipping down to 20 below zero one night this past February, plants are now showing the signs of that cold temperature! You will need to spend some time outdoors now to get your landscape back in shape. In a short synopsis, this is what we are finding outside:

Roses-very few of our roses survived the winter. If they are living, they would be showing some sign of green and a few buds somewhere by now. I have a few “Knock-outs” that have a few sprouts near the bottom of the plant, but almost all our pretty hybrid tea roses are gone, even the ones which were mulched and protected near the front porch.

One plant in front of the greenhouse which was given to me from my Napier neighbors, when my dad passed away, may have one sprout coming up from the base of the plant. I hope it is coming up above the graft.

If your roses survive, but sprout below the graft union, they will grow and bloom this summer, but the rose you see will not be the rose you had before. It will probably be a wiry scattered bloom you will not find attractive at all.

For those, go ahead and pull up and throw it away. You’ll never be happy with it as grafted roses are grafted on a rootstock that is based on root development and growth. It will usually not be a pretty rose you would want to cut and bring into your home.

Prune all roses down now to where you see a green cane or a reddish-colored sprout from the bottom of the plant. If they have not greened up by now, they probably never will.

Nandina -or heavenly bamboo was once 8 feet tall in the front of my house. These plants were given to me by a good friend who declared that I needed them in my landscape. He is gone now. I have used their pretty green berries and foliage in both my daughter’s , one nephew and two niece’s wedding arrangements and bouquets.

They have been put in many fall decorations for years at Natural Bridge State Park and numerous altar arrangements at church. I have used their red berries in hundreds of wreaths and centerpieces for Christmas in at least 6 Kentucky counties over the years. But now they are dead.

There will be no more berries this year. Their stately canes all are black in the center. There is no life in them and they were thrown on the fire last Thursday night.

It was a painful ritual. It tore at my soul to cut them down, but they are gone. My only hope is that one of them might sucker out from the bottom and rejuvenate themselves. They will have to start over.

Crepe Myrtle-my crepe myrtle is usually pretty each summer, but it has died down before. Anytime temperatures get below 10 above, my crepe myrtle bites the dust. Losing it this winter was no surprise. I will cut it down to the ground, but am pretty much sure that it will come back from the ground level once soil temperatures increase.

It probably will not have many blooms this year, but it should survive. I even expect the big Crepe myrtle in front of People’s Exchange Insurance store will have to be cut down this year and start over. It is one of the prettiest specimens in the county, and has a brilliant display of red blooms almost every year. It is an old variety which must have more winter cold tolerance than most current varieties. I hope it made it through.

Southern Magnolia-Those once waxy, dark green leaves are now brown and scorched looking, just like you took a flame to each leaf. Again, these are “Southern” magnolias. This winter, we did not have southern weather! Many or most of these leaves will drop off, but fortunately, most will be replaced with those pretty glossy leaves again this summer. This is God’s way of replacing an old shrub or tree.

Boxwood - Another southern plant that does not like temperatures below zero is showing lots of signs of leaf scorch. Most of these will come out of it, but may have to have some extra pruning to remove the whitened, dead leaves.

Foster Hollies and other hollies are burned pretty badly. I had one tree in the back yard that had almost half of the bottom branches removed. Every leaf had fallen off and the branches were bare. Maybe this was a good opportune time to prune it anyway. Other plants that are scorched include Photina, even taxus and juniper. Time will tell on most shrubs.

I personally feel about pruning and burning old plants like I do about cleaning out my closets or greenhouse areas. I remembered who gave me that basket, or what trip I was on when I purchased that planter. I have become attached to that red sweater that someone gave me, even though it may be a little too tight to wear right now.

If only I could lose a few pounds, it might fit better.

Plants, like old sweaters make me comfortable. They make me feel at home. I hate to see them go.

While we are talking about spring plants, check out your forsythia. Most are showing only a few blooms down around the ground. The buds of the forsythia have been killed, and only those which were covered down in the snow, or received just a little warmth from the ground, were protected and will bloom. They are the sorriest sight I have ever seen, but every once in a while, you may see one that was unscathed by the winter cold. They will leaf out soon, without their pretty blooms.

Don’t punish them by harsh pruning. Hopefully they will do better for us next winter. In 40 years, I have never seen them do this!

The Bradford pears in your yard may also bloom this week, but expect poor flower shows from them as well. Most will bloom with a small dingy brown bloom that will make you sad, at best. Temperatures at twenty below zero in February or March do not enable us to have a pretty bloom show come spring!

Pirates perfect for the week

By GREG MCINTOSH
Times Sportswriter

The Powell County Pirate baseball team has gotten off to a good start this season with a 5-1 record. The Pirates pitching has been stellar this season and this past week was no exception. Powell pitchers allowed just five runs in three games during the week.

Last Monday Powell traveled to Nicholas County. Powell started the scoring in the first inning with a lead off double by Jordan Woosley, who later scored. The Pirates got another run in the third after Chance Snowden walked and scored on an error.

Powell added a run in the fourth, Brady Salisbury walked and Woosley was hit by a pitch. Jake Whitt then singled to score a run. Nicholas scored a run in the fourth to bring the score 3-1.

The score remained the same until the bottom of the seventh when Nicholas scored a run to make it 3-2. With a man on third Nicholas grounded out to Brad Smith to end the game, Powell won 3-2. Jacob Hall and Jordan Woosley pitched in the game for the Pirates.

Then last Tuesday Powell traveled to Lee County for their first district game of the year. Powell got off to a quick start with two runners on, Chance Snowden doubled to score two runs. The Pirates scored eight runs in the first inning as the route was on. Powell defeated Lee 24-0. Cameron Conrad and Keaton Bailey pitched for the Pirates.

Last Thursday Powell traveled to Sheldon Clark. Both teams failed to score in the first inning. Powell got on the board in the second on a walk to Cameron Conrad. Derrick Robinson sacrificed and Jacob Hall was hit by a pitch. Brady Salisbury singled to score a run. The Pirates led 2-0. Sheldon Clark scored a run in the bottom of the inning to make it 2-1.

In the fourth inning, Salisbury was hit by a pitch and then scored on a double by Jordan Woosley. Jake Whitt walked and Dylan Morton was hit by a pitch. Chance Snowden singled to clear the bases. Powell led 5-1.

Salisbury, pitching for the Pirates, allowed two runs in the bottom of the fourth to bring the score 5-3. In the sixth inning, Powell exploded for six runs on doubles by Jake Whitt, Chance Snowden, and Derrick Robinson. Jacob Hall came in to pitch for the Pirates and held Sheldon Clark scoreless for the remainder of the game. Powell won the game 11-3.

The Pirates are now 8-1 in the season and 1-0 in district play. Powell was scheduled to travel to Breathitt County on Monday, Owsley County on Tuesday, and Jackson City on Thursday. The Pirates are at home Friday against Leslie County and Saturday against Letcher Central.

The 2nd/3rd grade Wizards finished the season undefeated (10-0) and also won 1st place in the Little League Tournament! The team and coach are: (l to r) Coach Jimmy Crase, Kaleb Rose, Ben Fults, Tristan West, Quentin Roberts, Braden Brandenburg, Austin Pierce and Colin Crase.

The Extreme Team had quite a Final Four Weekend. They performed at an Indiana Pacers game on Friday, then performed at NCAA Fan Fest before making their national debut on ESPN's College Game Day on Saturday. Memories!
